RE: MEA Testing

The window for administering the MEA assessments begins March 20, 2017. Teachers will be giving these assessments over the next week or two. As we know, adequate sleep is beneficial for all of us, so please assist your child with getting the rest they need to perform well at school.

Also as a reminder, this assessment is just one of many aspects of a student's education and they should not experience undue stress and anxiety. Please contact the school if you have any questions or concerns.
