Letter to the Editor:

I would like to thank all that attended the second annual Harvest Fest held at Stratton School last week. Most every student in the school had an active part for the Harvest Fest, whether it was planting and harvesting, preparing and cooking food or organizing, setting or cleaning up, this truly was a school-wide student event.

I would also like to thank all the farms, businesses, parents, and staff that helped make the evening a success. Lastly, Katie Wuori, Anne Flight and Dave Richards need to be recognized for sharing a vision, providing guidance and leadership and starting the process for a school garden project that promotes a healthy lifestyle, which continues to make Stratton School a great place to teach and learn.

The Harvest Fest provided a great place for parents, community members, volunteers and staff to relax in the gym conversing with no agenda or specific topics. Just conversations that promote the community feeling.

Sincerely,

Barry O. London
